Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Sunday 18 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Another very warm and sunny day, feeling warmer than yesterday.

Today:
Another fine, dry, and sunny day, with largely clear skies throughout. Some patchy fair-weather cloud will bubble up in the afternoon over eastern areas, bringing a risk of the odd sharp shower. Feeling very warm, and hot for many. Maximum temperature 31 deg C (88 deg F).

Tonight:
Skies remain clear overnight, allowing for a risk of some mist or fog for prone locations. Feeling warmer than Saturday night, with light winds. Minimum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Monday:
Morning clear skies give way to fair-weather cloud into the afternoon, mainly in the east, bringing a risk of the odd sharp shower. Dry for most, however, and very warm. Maximum temperature 27 deg C (81 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Warm, and very warm weather will continue through this period, with plenty of sunshine. Becoming more unsettled, however, with a risk of heavy, possibly thundery showers developing each afternoon.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.